Letter from the Pastor-Kevin Young, C.L.P.

From time to time I've been known to get on a rant about being "Politically Correct". My point is "WE the Church" cannot be politically correct because being so is "Biblically Wrong"! That is why the Temple leaders of Jesus day had issues with Him. Jesus called them out on their political correctness. Jesus' teachings were grounded in Biblical correctness. Are not we today to do the same? Have a church that is founded and grounded in scripture, the Holy Word of God, unwavering in its interpretation and meaning? Any way before I get too carried away I want to share with all of you a letter from a dear friend and brother in Christ. His name is Don Nixon; he is a lecturer, writer, and church leader, and much more than I can fit into the space of this letter. This letter is from Don's web-site; www.winningamerica.com I hope you like it as much as I did. It's called; "We Are The Exception"

The normal state of affairs for followers of Christ for 2,000 years has been one of either persecution or at least marginalization. That is true even today in most of the world. Conditions range from the relatively soft cultural intolerance of secular Europe to the all out attempted extermination of believers in hostile nations.

The most notable exception has been America for the last few centuries. The church here has had the opportunity to flourish as never before in history and the result has been the most religious freedom that has ever been experienced and the most prosperous nation that ever existed. Hmmm....could there be a correlation? Even so, it has become increasingly difficult to be a follower of Christ in our nation in recent decades. Being a Christian is not celebrated like it once was and in some cases it is even considered to be a liability. It really does take some courage to be an uncompromising follower of the Nazarene. How does that cause us to respond? Winning America responds by:

* Recognizing that our freedom and our prosperity is the direct result of the largely biblical bedrock upon which our Founders established this nation.

*Knowing that powerful revivals played a major role in course-correction whenever our nation drifted away from that biblical bedrock. We must be praying for that to happen again.

*Admitting that we, as the church in America, have disengaged from many institutions (education, entertainment, media, etc.) that are now very secular and have a huge influence in our everyday lives.

*Calling the body of Christ in our nation to reengage in all areas of American life so that our salt and light may impact those institutions once again.

*Challenging each individual believer to cry out to God, "Here am I. Send me!" If a majority of Christ-followers in our nation do just that, we will change our history.

Our historically high level of blessing in this amazing nation is not given to us just so we can enjoy God's generosity. We are blessed so that we can, in turn bless others. Let us recognize that it all comes with a very high degree of purpose. Find that purpose in your life and watch your world change, not to mention the fate of our nation.

Advancing God's Kingdom in Jesus' Name,
Don Nixon
